Hanging in there

Bridal Veil Falls Resort opened Saturday, however the tram will not begin running until next week. Here, Bret Crandall, left, and Ray Crandall, both of Springville, work on the tram ropes and cables. Key cables are being replaced on the tram, according to Dave Grow, manager. Workmen began replacing the tail rope and counterweight rope Friday and were expected to complete the job today. Recent improvements in steel technology have created better cables, and park officials want to use them, Grow said.
